Reading Plus provides an extensive library of engaging informational and literary selections that support instructional objectives through student-centered learning.

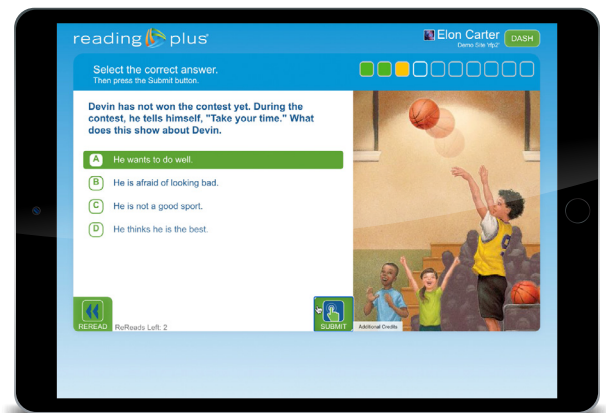

New content extends across the program's 19 reading levels, which range from early-first-grade readability through college-level texts, including five levels of content for older students reading well below grade level.

- ✓ Exciting for your students
- ✓ Rigorous to meet high standards
- ✓ Topics and genres that appeal to even the most reluctant students

Rigorous Texts and Comprehension Tasks

Reading Plus uses a research-based approach to meet text complexity recommendations outlined in national and state standards. Each text includes rigorous questions in a variety of formats written by the Reading Plus team to test comprehension skills.

Critical grade-appropriate academic vocabulary is seamlessly incorporated into every text. Students advancing through the program encounter a staircase of steadily increasing vocabulary complexity and sentence length, ensuring that they engage with texts that are truly appropriate for their reading ability.

Student Choice & Control

Students self-select texts through eight interest filters that provide agency over reading material. Within each category, students will find a wide variety of texts from global sources that support the acquisition of knowledge in curriculum areas of STEM, social science, American civics, and literature.

Engaging student-suggested topics not only reinforce classroom learning objectives, but also provide "mirrors and windows" that allow students to relate to shared experiences and discover the world around them.
