

On-time delivery, every time

EXXONMOBIL SUCCESS STORY

Extensive resources delivered on-time during a time of need

WE'VE NEVER FACED THIS BEFORE

Shortly after learning of their Essential Business designation during the height of COVID-19, Exxon Mobil immediately began looking for a solution to enforce Social Distancing protocols for all 13,000 employees at their main Woodlands, TX headquarters. The sheer size of the project needed was immense and included over 400 conference rooms alone, with countless points of daily personal contact that needed to be safeguarded.

CAN WE MAKE THIS WORK?

Exxon had never been faced with providing social distancing products before, or at such a large scale. To make matters even more difficult, there was a 48-hour window in which the products needed to be in place or the building faced closure. Unfortunately for Exxon, their print supplier at that time was also ill-equipped to produce and deliver the floor and wall graphics they needed on time. Fortunately, one of Exxon's Graphic Designers knew of Southwest Precision and reached out for help.

A RELIABLE PARTNER

As a result of successful delivery, Exxonmobil could ensure the safety of thousands of other employees and continue vital daily operations smoothly. Southwest Precision Printing has proven to be a partner businesses can turn to during a time of urgent need, no matter the size or scope.

Southwest Precision, who was not a preferred vendor received more orders with similar schedules for Exxon Mobil locations across the State of Texas, ensuring the safety of thousands of other employees. The relationship between Southwest Precision and Exxon continues to progress into new areas thanks to the high-quality products and responsiveness shown by Southwest in a time of urgent need.

The job that had started on Thursday was in the hands of ExxonMobil by Saturday, with 24-hour in-house production.

"We'll get it done"

With a 48-hour delivery window to meet, Southwest Precision Printing had their work cut out for them. With large numbers of products to produce, the response Southwest Precision gave to Exxon never wavered, and they guaranteed delivery would be met. Work commenced immediately for all floor and wall signage using large industrial offset printers with 24-hour production schedules to ensure timelines were kept.
