Incident Ready™ Service

LIFE'S BETTER
IN OUR BUBBLE

Incident Ready™ Service Contract

Through this service contract, our team of security engineers will help you develop and maintain a sound cybersecurity strategy that reduces potential exposure to security incidents, mitigates and reduces recovery time if danger strikes, while helping you become more diligent and deliberate as an organization in your approach to cybersecurity.

Vancord will perform an assessment of core infrastructure components critical for a successful recovery from a cyberattack or data breach. This will result in an incident response readiness assessment that prioritizes improvements necessary to reduce negative outcomes of an incident and empower a rapid response.

Vancord will manage security incident response activities on the behalf of any customers that experience a cyberattack or data breach. Our team of engineers will analyze any available data, determine the breadth of the incident or breach, and take corrective actions.

Customers that have followed our plan were able to confidently answer critical questions:

- Is my data recoverable?
- Was data stolen, modified, or deleted?
- What was the root cause of the attack?
- Do I need to notify consumers?

Contract Benefits

- Reduce Potential Exposure to Incidents
- Protect & Secure Vital Assets
- Reduce Recovery Time if Danger Strikes
- Education & Training on Organizational Best Practices
- Fulfill Compliance Obligations

Identify Potential Risks:

- Phishing
- Data Loss
- Cyberattack
- Ransomware

Deliverables

- Meeting with customer to discuss assessment outcomes
- Incident Ready™ Report with recommendations to improve customer defenses
- Ongoing access to Vancord Engineer (vISO services) to discuss any security concerns
- Dark Web Monitoring with real-time reporting
- Prioritized access to Vancord Incident Ready™ Team if a cyberattack occurs
- Work with cyber-liability insurance carrier on behalf of customer to become pre-approved vendor

Vancord cybersecurity was built around the idea that good security is born out of sound operational practices and education, not out of complicated products and niche security solutions. We seek to become your trusted information security partner, working to truly understand your business, so we're only offering customized solutions, tailored specifically to your exact needs.
