> " With the industry moving towards value-based purchasing, Lifematters is placing larger emphasis on better outcomes and data collection as the company aggressively expands into new markets. Home care is seeing greater participation in Medicare Advantage Plans and Transitional Care programs for healthcare systems and skilled nursing facilities, which are also important programs for Lifematters. We are thrilled to have AlayaCare as a partner to support our expansion as we deliver better outcomes and experiences for both healthcare providers and clients through our virtual call centers and innovative technology initiatives."

— Daniel Gold, COO, Lifematters.
