Time by Ping (“TBP”) is time automation and not timekeeping, with its manual labor and guaranteed disappointment. And time automation is not time capture, leaving you to separate the wheat from an avalanche of chaff.

No, time automation is entirely different. It's smart, driven by AI that knows what's billable and what's not. It's easy, deploying quickly and delighting users even quicker. And it's lucrative, paying for itself in a matter of days with time that would otherwise be lost to the friction and frustration of your current process.

Don't you think it's time for a better way?

Manual timekeeping is costing your firm millions.

5% of a lawyers day is spent tracking time

Tracking time down to 6-minute increments is incredibly taxing and nearly impossible to do well. Lawyers hate it.

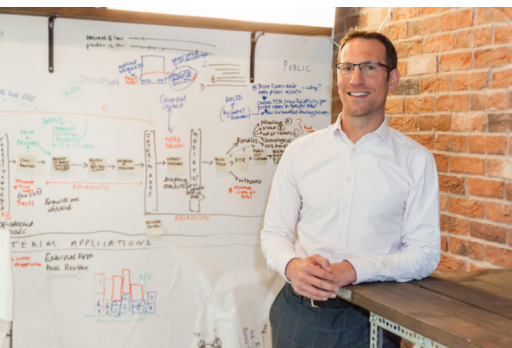

20% of time worked isn't billed

A staggering amount of worked time is lost forever to the friction and inaccuracy of manual timekeeping.

18% of time billed isn't paid

Clients know this process is broken, don't trust the output, and understandably push back through write-downs and write-offs.

Across an average of an 8-hour day.

“Purchasing Time by Ping isn't a timekeeping play. For us, it's a revenue play.”
