Logistics Solutions Through The Ruff

Go Mutts! Bringing your products to the world

Team Taylor builds efficiencies by leveraging transportation synergies and creating product visibility to customers at every stage. With this transparency level, customers can monitor inventory levels to gauge when more product is needed and be assured their orders are delivered to the market on time. Whether your order is a single carton or a full truckload, we'll get it there.

We love food safety as much as people love their pets

The fact is, we're bulldogs when it comes to rule-following. We partner with our customers to manage SQF compliance and routing guides, strictly adhering to specific labeling and delivery procedures every step of the way. What's more, our automated order integration creates visibility of inventory and KPIs, so clients have real-time data to make informed decisions.

Pet food solutions without faux-paw

Already have a robust management system in place? We can fully integrate with your system and give you real-time inventory and order-processing visibility. Don't have a sophisticated inventory system of your own? No problem. You can rely on our system and a broad suite of automated reports to assist in managing your business.

Pawesome supply chain solutions

Taylor is truly a special breed; we've altered our business to offer head to tail services. Transportation needs from our facilities both inbound and outbound. All of our fulfillment centers are food-grade certified with the SQF seal. Lot control, expiration date racking, first in first out (FIFO). Accurate inventory levels and cycle counts as well as order history.

Taylor currently occupies 1 Million+ square feet of Safe Quality Food grade pet food fulfillment in two states. Including direct to consumer eCommerce and B2B.

A pet food customer with traditional B2B shipments wanted to add direct to consumer (D2C) eCommerce fulfillment into five of its fulfillment centers. Including parcel lines, UPS Worldship integrations, tracking and tracing, and converting inventory to reflect the new processes. Learn how Team Taylor made it happen by scanning the QR code.
