Die Bayerische relies on the in|sure GovInterface IT solution for its communications with authorities

Dortmund, October 7, 2020 – Die Bayerische has opted for the in|sure GovInterface product developed by the adesso insurance solutions software company. As part of the in|sure Ecosphere application landscape, in|sure GovInterface is the IT solution for the processing of individual contracts for statutory reporting to the authorities. "As a first step, we would like to put our communications with authorities associated with Riester pension contracts on a new footing. As an insurer, we're also faced with the challenge of efficiently handling the current and future reporting requirements of the authorities. The in|sure GovInterface product from adesso insurance solutions is the perfect IT solution for us. It imports all available data from the necessary systems via one interface each, checks this data for relevance to the various registration procedures, prepares the data accordingly and reports it to the authorities as a data record. This means that we only have minimal need to adapt our own systems/interfaces. The software thus ensures that the reports are complete and also offers a very wide range of functions for all relevant lines of business," says Michael Brand, Managing Director of die Bayerische IT GmbH.
