Regler at the wheel. Topham is also thought to have been returning from relatives.

Mrs Regler was described by her family as a 'much-loved wife, mum, nan and friend who will be sadly missed'.

Former painter and decorator Topham and his Iceland worker fiancée scooped the jackpot in February 2012. Shortly afterwards, they were married and left their ex-council home in Stapleford, Nottinghamshire.

The keen racing driver owns several Aston Martins and has his own helicopter in a hangar at their mansion in Lincolnshire.

Last week, it was revealed he spent £600,000 buying a petting zoo for his mother-in-law.

In an interview with Cosmopolitan magazine, wife Cassey, also 31, described themselves as 'modest spenders'. She told how they rarely went on holiday and, although she had bought a new Aston Martin, she preferred to drive her old Fiat 500.

She said: 'We try to keep things normal. Our friends and family wouldn't allow us to be big-headed or extravagant.'

'Matt cleans the car; I do our weekly shop at Asda or Tesco.'

ROUX DUNNIT

THIS striking image of famous chef Albert Roux at work has taken top spot in an event photography contest.

Entitled Eyes For Detail, it captures the moment before a plate of gourmet food was served up at the Wimbledon tennis championships last year.

Taken by Deb Porter, the photo was hailed as a 'shining' illustration of the commitment and attention to detail needed in the events industry.

The competition held by recruitment and training firm Off To Work attracted 2,000 entries.
