

Community Banks Power Small Businesses in the DMV and Nationwide.

ICBA President and CEO Rebeca Romero Rainey's recognition as a "Most Influential" in Washington is a modest reflection of the leadership shown by community banks nationwide.

With local roots, community banks are invested in the communities they serve in both good times and bad.

During the coronavirus pandemic, community banks have led the Paycheck Protection Program response. Community banks provided:

- » 60% of PPP loans
- » 73% of PPP loans to minority-owned small businesses
- » 72% of PPP loans to women-owned small businesses
- » 63% of PPP loans to veteran-owned small businesses
