

Leadercast

shift

Leading Off the Field

Cris Carter

Pro Football Hall of Famer | Broadcaster

The people that we surround ourselves with greatly impact our lives and can shift our perspectives to help bring out the best versions of us. When we're not at our best, that supportive group of people should be honest with us, challenge us, and call us out to do better.

Every good leader has a support system that made them who they are today. Allowing other people to speak into our lives helps us grow as we reach new heights in our careers.

But it's not just about surrounding yourself with good leaders. We must also be those types of leaders to the generations after us. We can bring the best out of them and help them to inspire change and strengthen our communities for a better future.

Main Points

If you want to be a great leader, learn to tap into others.

Surround yourself with grounding forces that encourage and support you.

Reaching your full potential takes humility, grace, and a shift in your perspective.

“We do our best work [when we're] with other people.”