Designed for life

There's a place where quality of education meets quality of living

Where your wellbeing matters as much as your qualification

And you're supported from first enquiry to final graduation and beyond

It's a place where dreams become defined

Ambitions nurtured

And opportunities opened

It's a place where education and business intertwine

So careers flourish and the economy thrives

This is a place of inspiration

From lecture theatre to festival stage

Work experience to nature experience

It has Australia's high education standards

But with a lower Australian cost of living

It's a place built upon a simple yet progressive vision

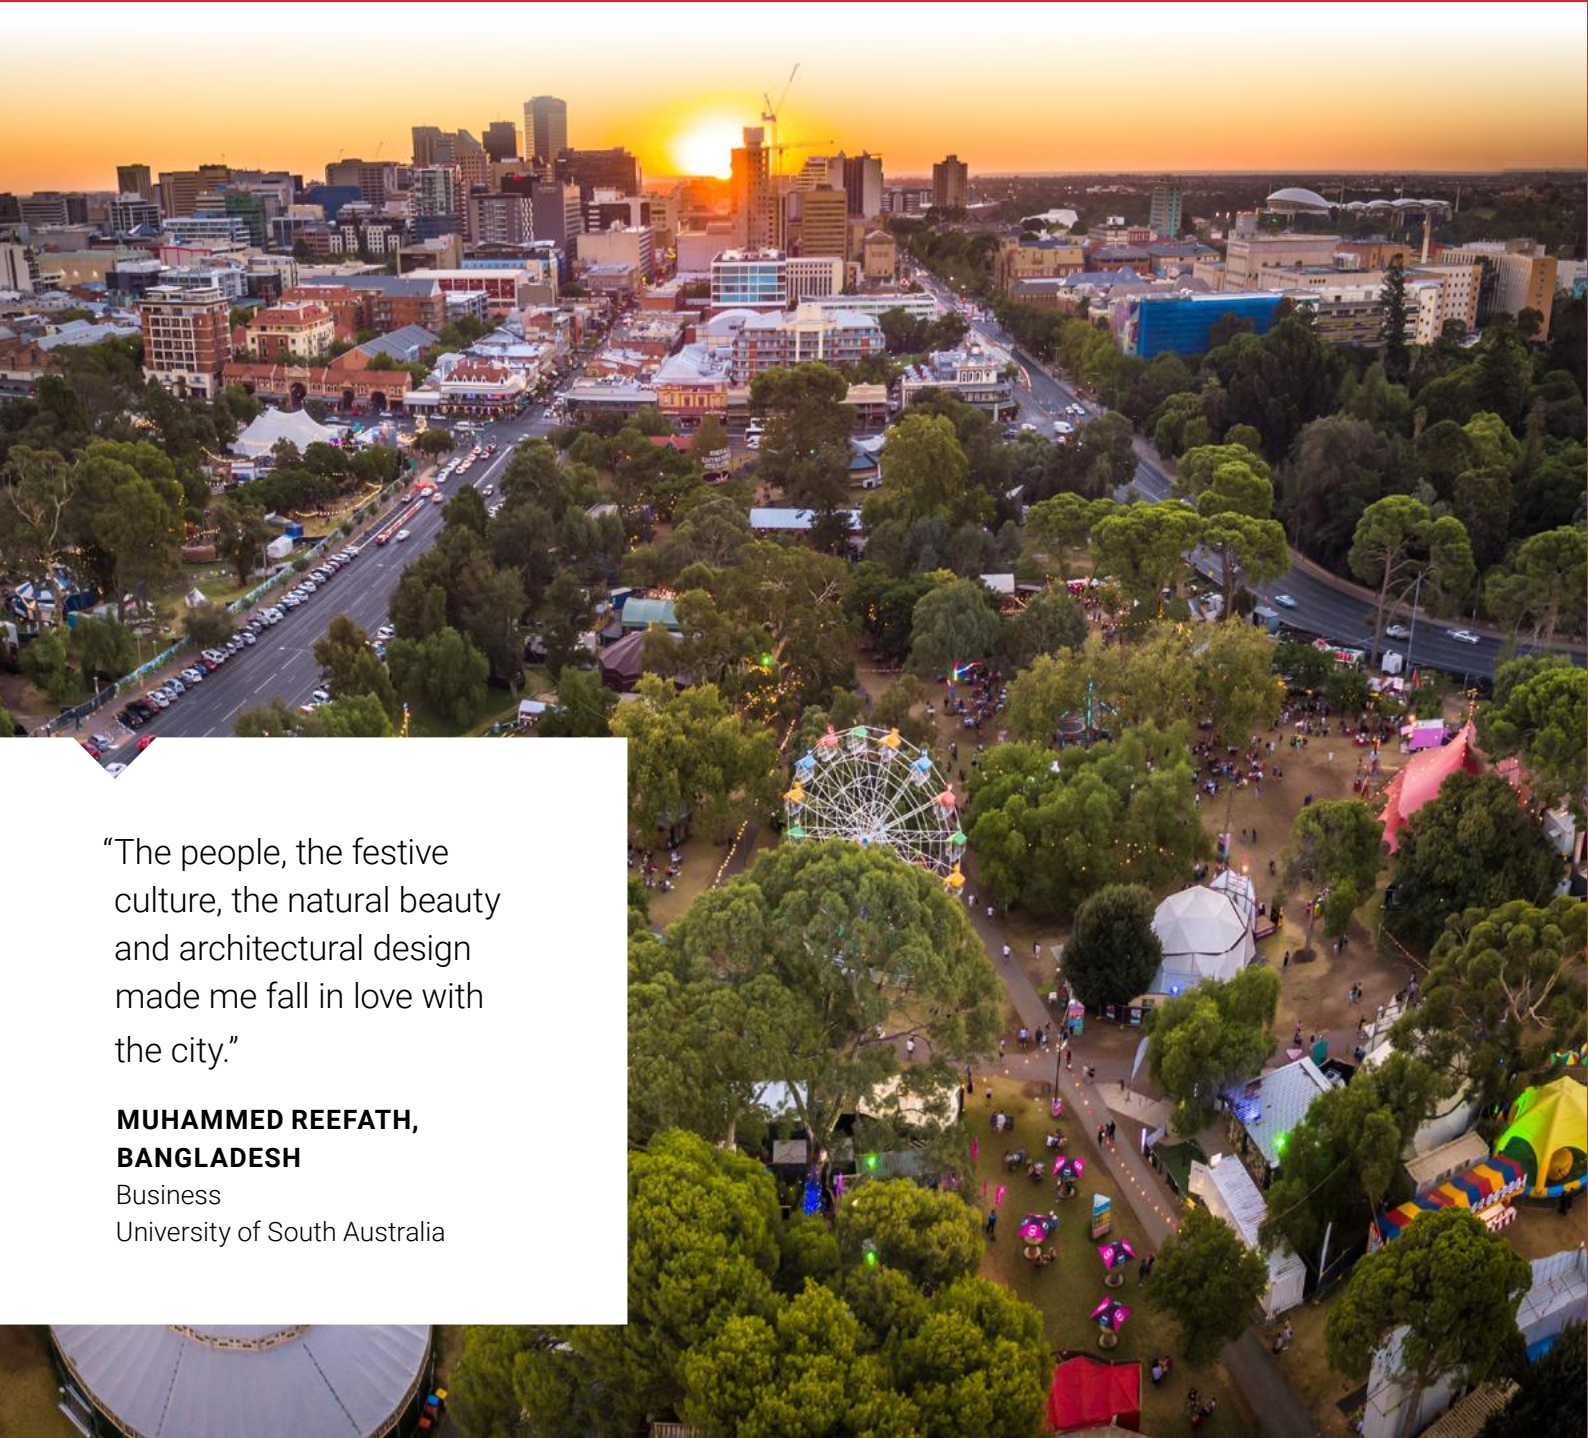

To create a diverse and welcoming environment

Where people can live well

And achieve extraordinary things

This place is Adelaide.

Designed for life.

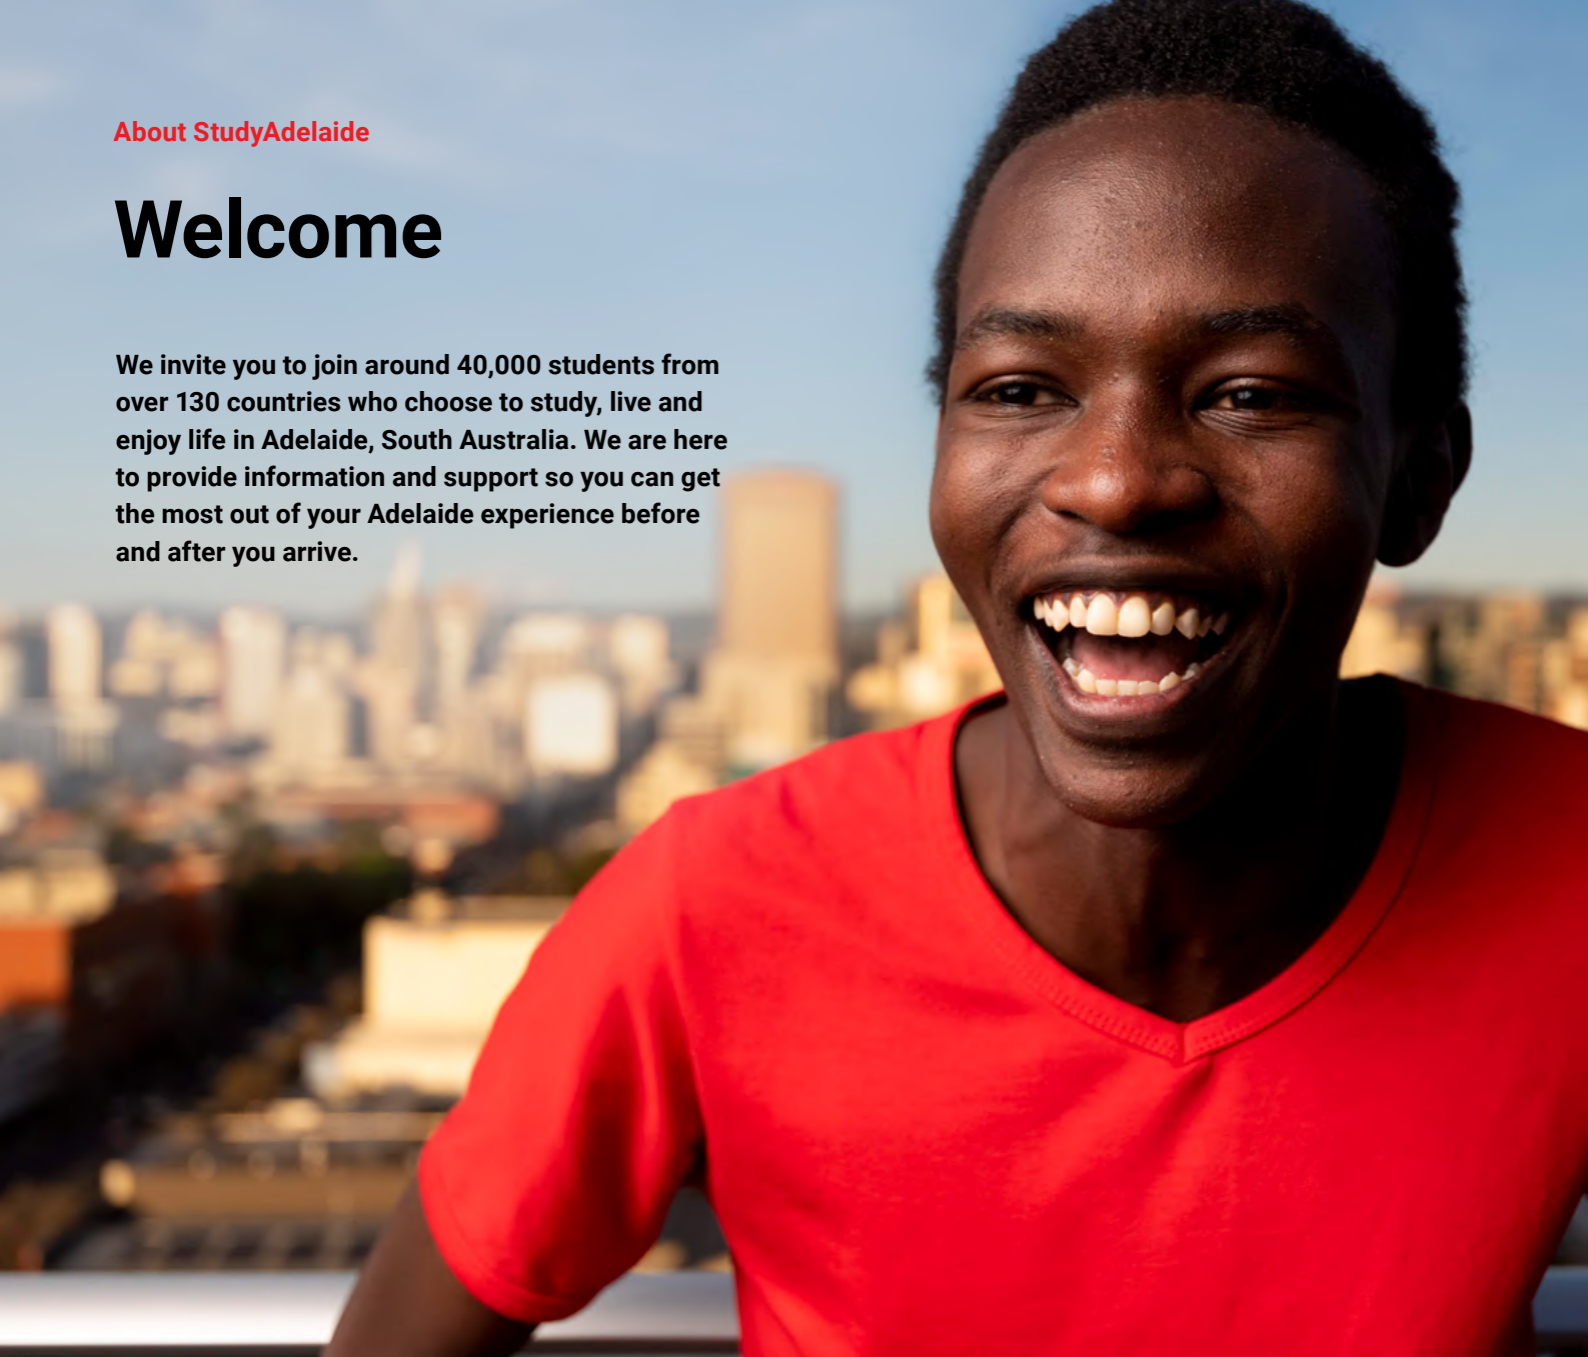

"The people, the festive culture, the natural beauty and architectural design made me fall in love with the city."

Enjoy the best of all worlds

Adelaide offers everyone a warm welcome. The city has all the benefits and conveniences of a major cosmopolitan centre, but with a relaxed, friendly and multicultural setting. You will be valued as a new member of the community and supported during your entire time in Adelaide.

Balance your learning with lifestyle

Adelaide is a city designed for life. It is large enough to always have somewhere new to explore, but compact enough that getting around is safe and straightforward. Adelaide offers fulltime international students savings of up to 50% on public transport, to make enjoying everything it has to offer simple and affordable.

A vibrant student life

Adelaide is a vibrant city that offers something for everyone. From city nightlife to relaxed suburbs, you can choose a lifestyle that suits you, in one of Australia's safest cities.

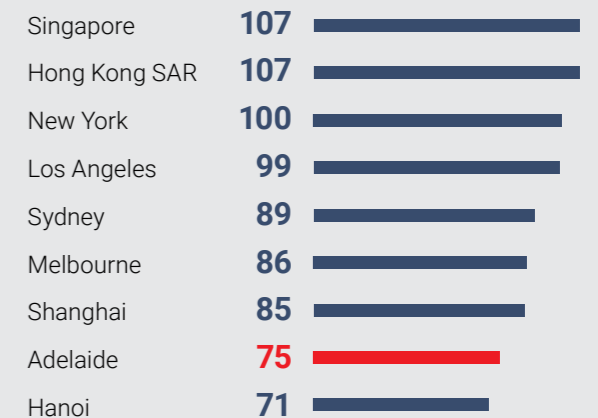

Affordable Adelaide

Adelaide is one of Australia's more affordable cities. Our cost of living is up to 14% lower than all other major Australian cities, with the lowest average rent in the country. Less living expenses means more funds to spend enjoying the city – and that matters when you have access to a lively food and wine scene, world-class festivals, galleries, markets and so much more.

Connect with global leaders

Adelaide's thriving economy is strongly connected to some of the world's most successful global leaders, hosting the likes of Microsoft, BHP, the big four accounting firms, Marriott and Sofitel hotels, Sony Interactive Entertainment and Technicolor. This large business community is an advantage for students as it can be easier to engage directly with business and develop valuable career connections.

Local industries leading the world

Adelaide's strong ties between industry and education create many opportunities to develop networks, skills and employment opportunities. We are proud to lead the world in many industries, including Health and Medical, Tourism, Food, Wine and Agribusiness, Energy and Minerals, Defence and Space, High-Tech and Creative Industries.

Examples of South Australia's industry and education alliances include:

- Tonsley, Australia's first innovation district and home to Flinders University and TAFE SA's Tonsley campuses as well as TAFE SA's Onshore Petroleum Centre of Excellence
- World-class food and wine research facilities at the University of Adelaide's Waite Campus
- The AU$3.8B Adelaide BioMed City, incorporating the South Australian Health and Medical Research Institute (SAMRHI, home to more than 600 scientists), Royal Adelaide Hospital, the University of Adelaide Health and Medical Sciences building and the University of South Australia Health Innovation Building

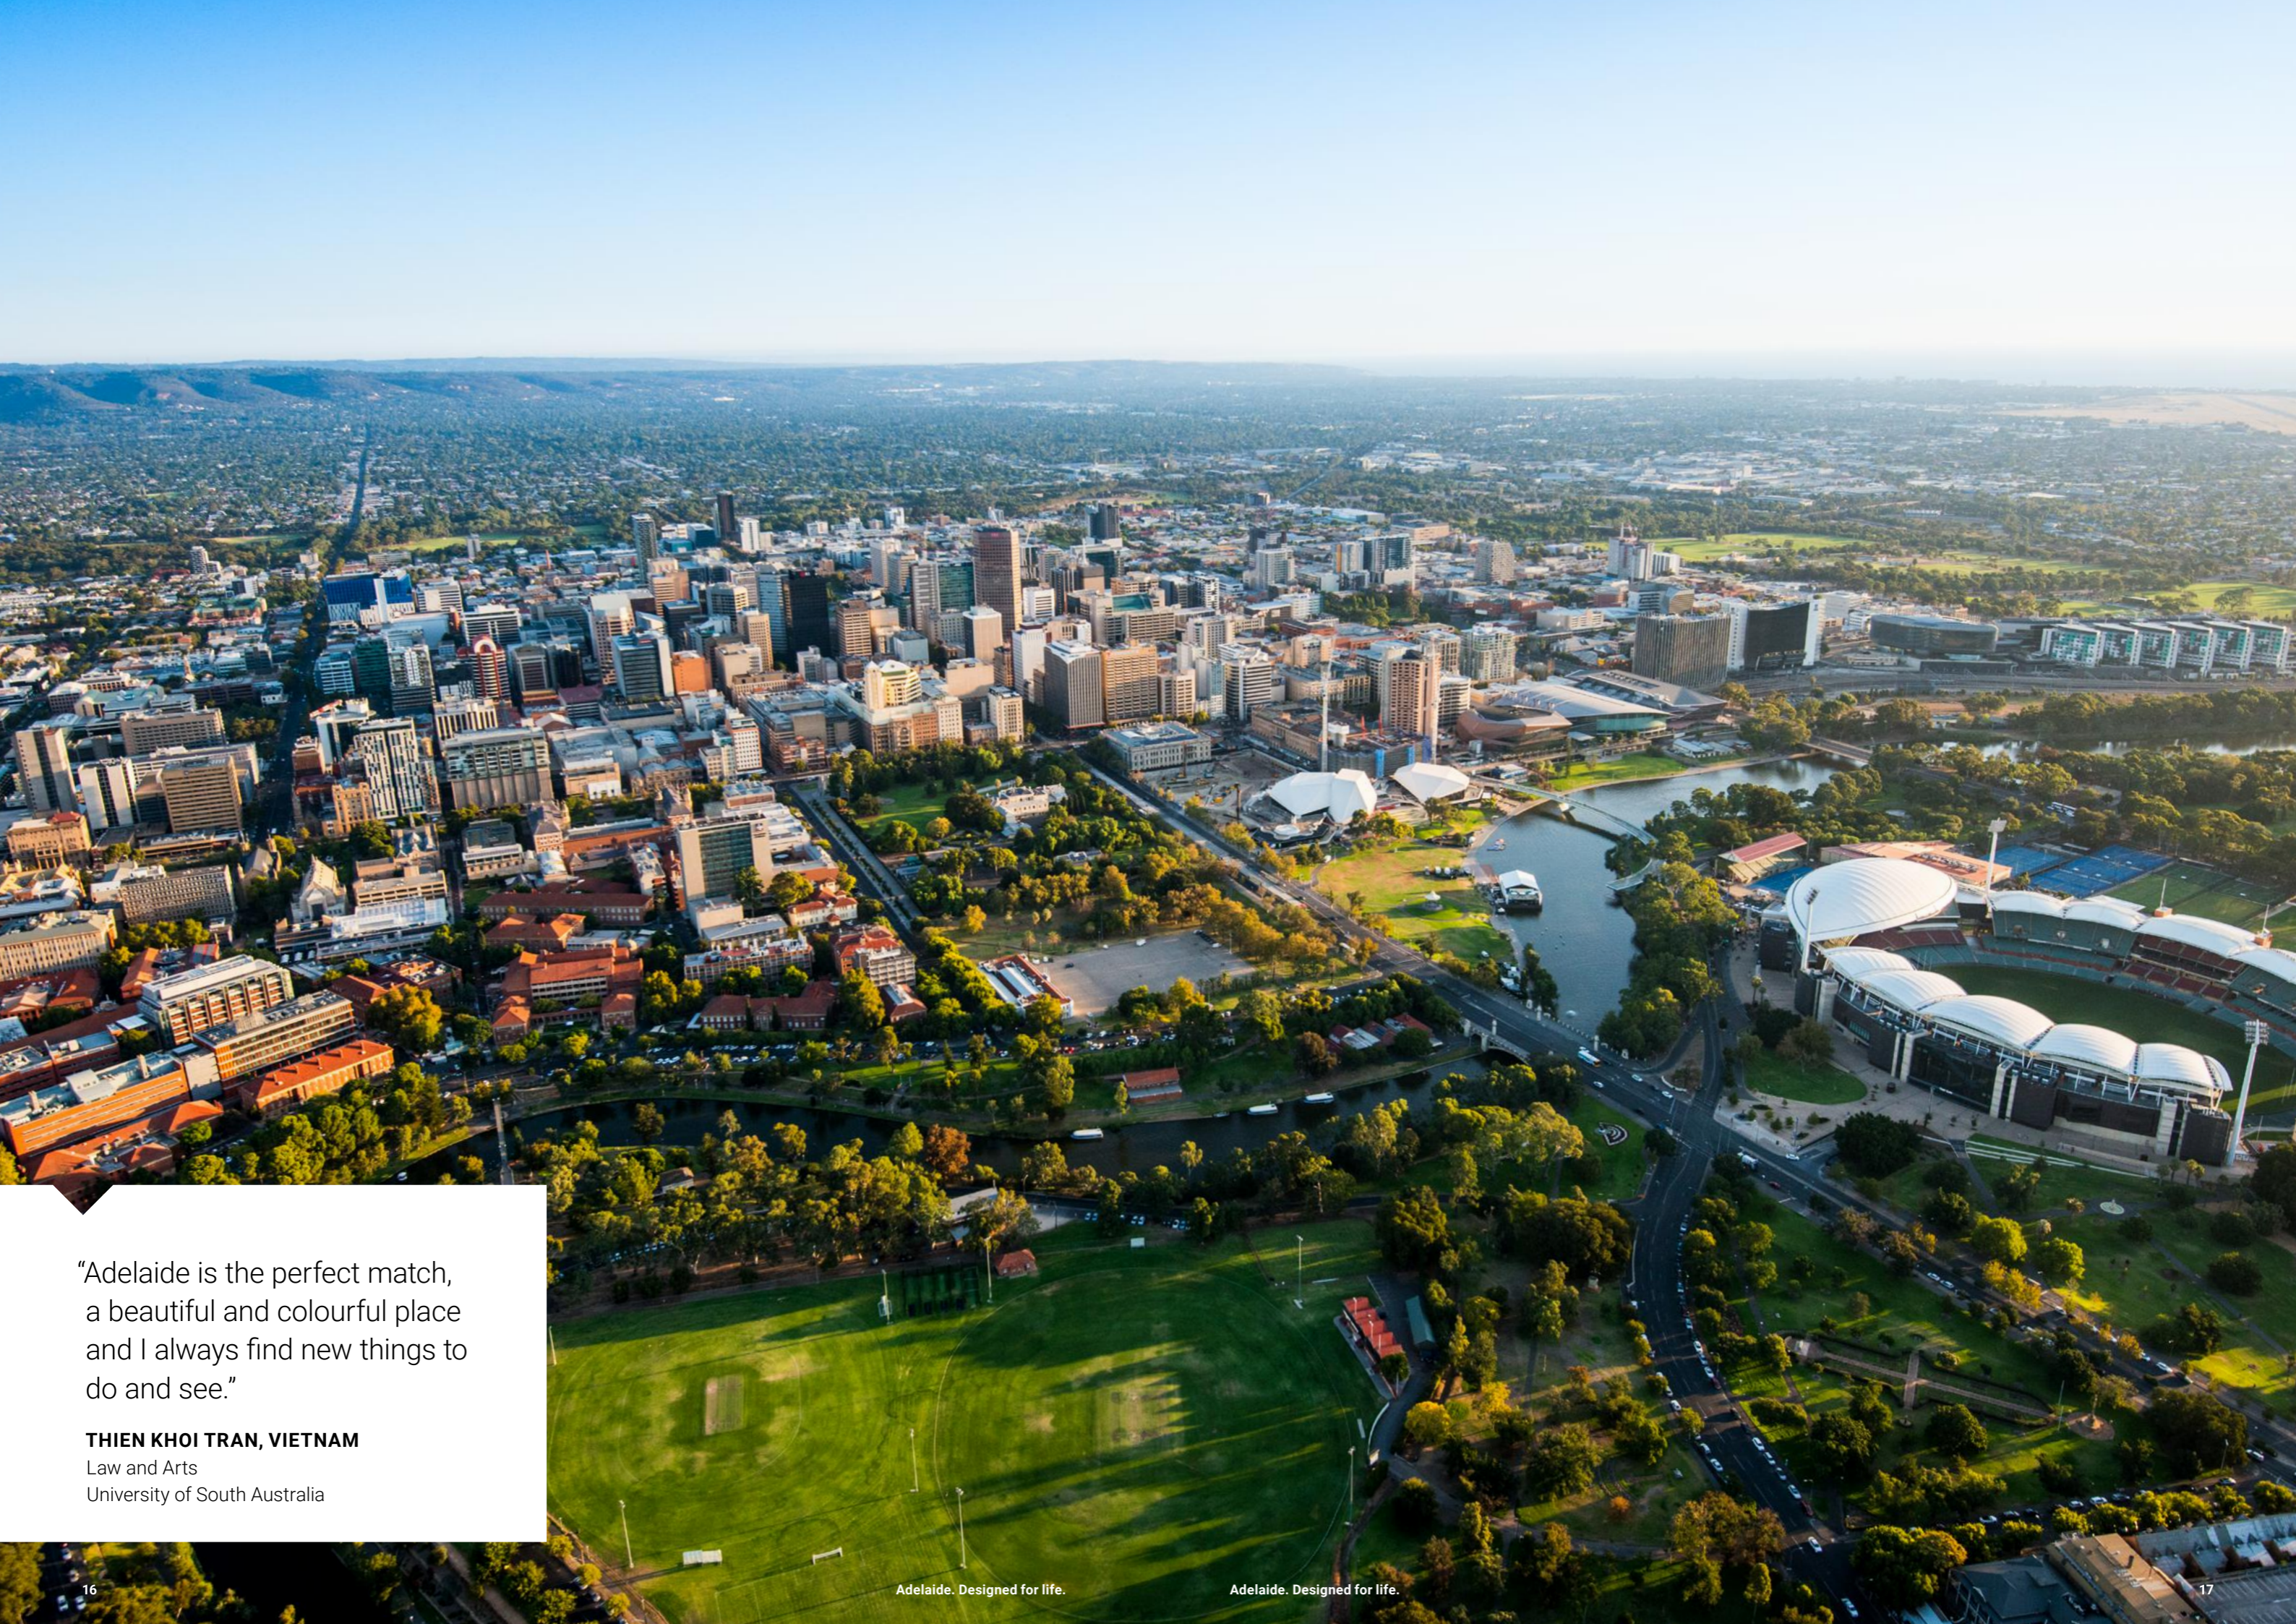

Innovation and entrepreneurship

Adelaide has a strong track record in supporting start-ups with innovation hubs, networking forums, and collaborative spaces. Building on the growing success of Tonsley, Lot 14 in the heart of the city is set to become Australia's largest incubator for entrepreneurs, students, tech business and leading researchers. It will be home to the Australian Space Agency and a new International Centre for Food, Hospitality and Tourism.

Nurturing young minds

South Australian schools have a strong reputation for preparing young minds for life through a supportive, caring and well-rounded education.

South Australian school system

South Australia offers a choice of high-quality government, independent or Catholic schools, providing 13 years of schooling across primary education (from Reception, aged around 5, to Year 6 or 7) and high school education (Year 7 or 8 to Year 12). Some schools specialise in just primary or high school, however some offer Reception through to Year 12 and others specialise in Year 11 and 12 only.

South Australian Certificate of Education

The South Australian Certificate of Education (SACE) is a globally-recognised program for Year 11 and 12 students which allows entry into universities around the world. Selected schools also offer the International Baccalaureate (IB), an international education program which is taught to more than one million students worldwide.

Government schools

South Australian Government schools have been providing study abroad experiences for international students for more than 25 years. From enrolment to homestay accommodation and support services, your wellbeing, English skills and academic success are the highest priorities. There are over 120 schools accredited to deliver the specialist International Student Program which includes a range of short and long-term options, with the Department for Education managing every aspect of these study abroad programs.
