How can we support students in online learning who have a higher chance of dropping out, not attending class, or failing?

Example 1:
Motivation & Engagement

Study of Interest

- Online psychology course, 1st & 2nd year college
- Sub-population with a higher chance of failing

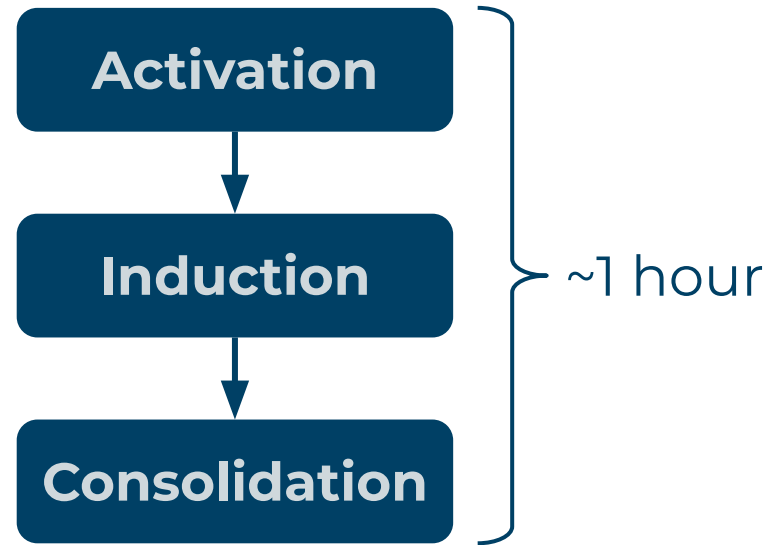

Motivation & Goal Engagement Study

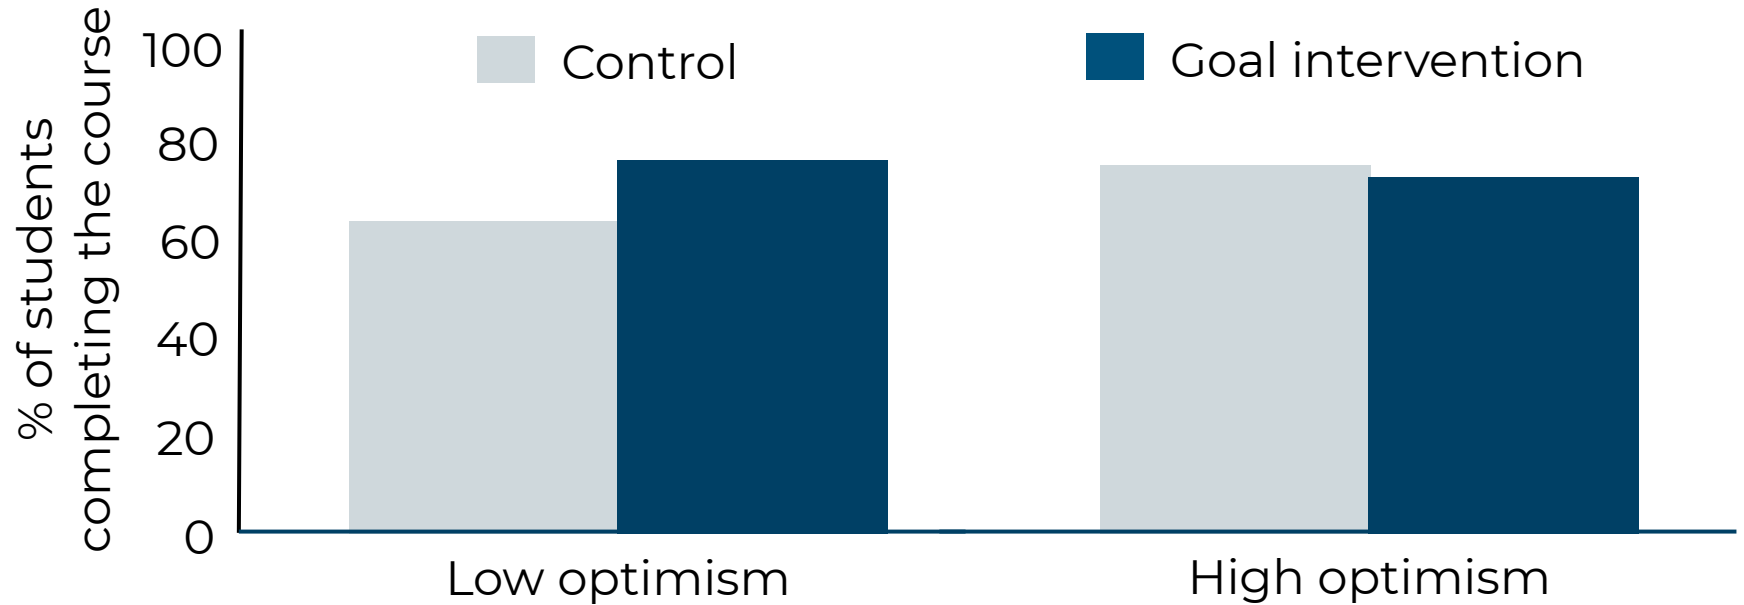

½ of class: control

½ of class: intervention

Course Completion

Brief Interventions & Specific Benefits

Student characteristics

Interventions

Subject to stereotype threat

Social belonging activities ¹

Fixed mindset

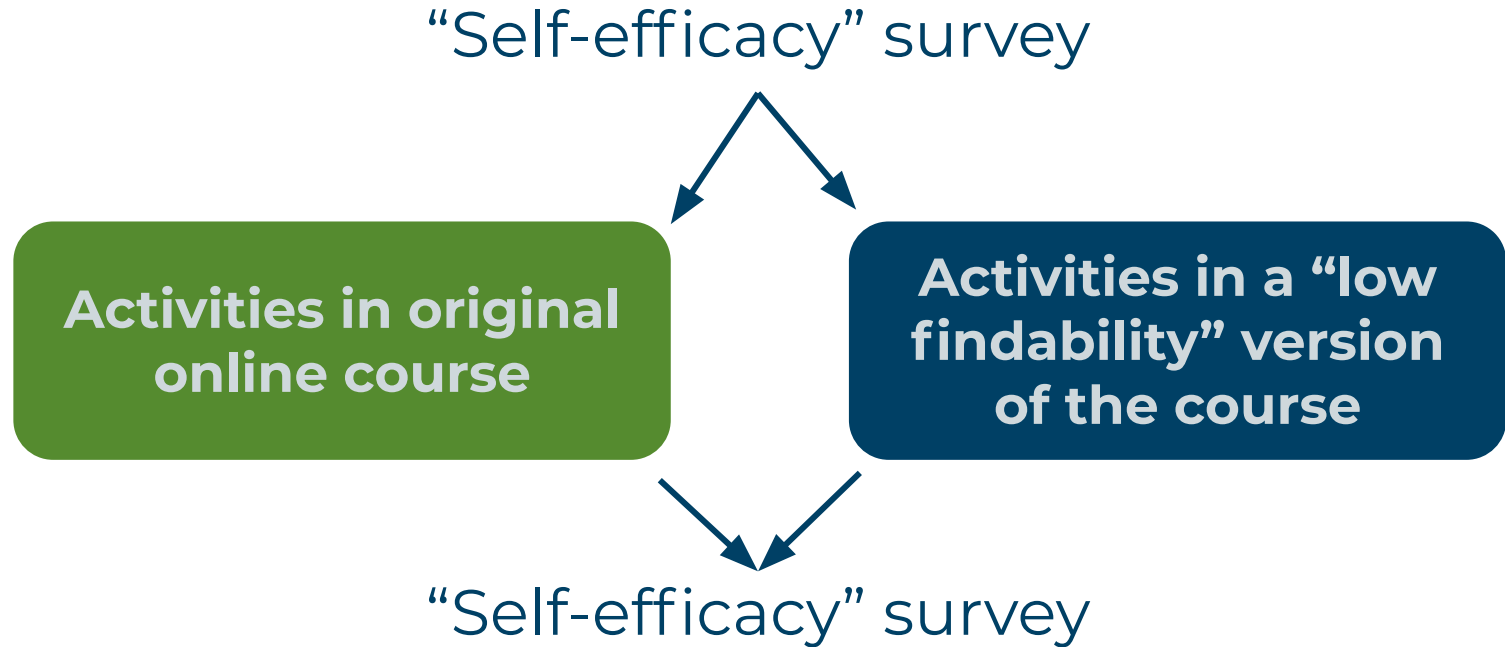

Growth mindset activities ²

Low grades, low optimism

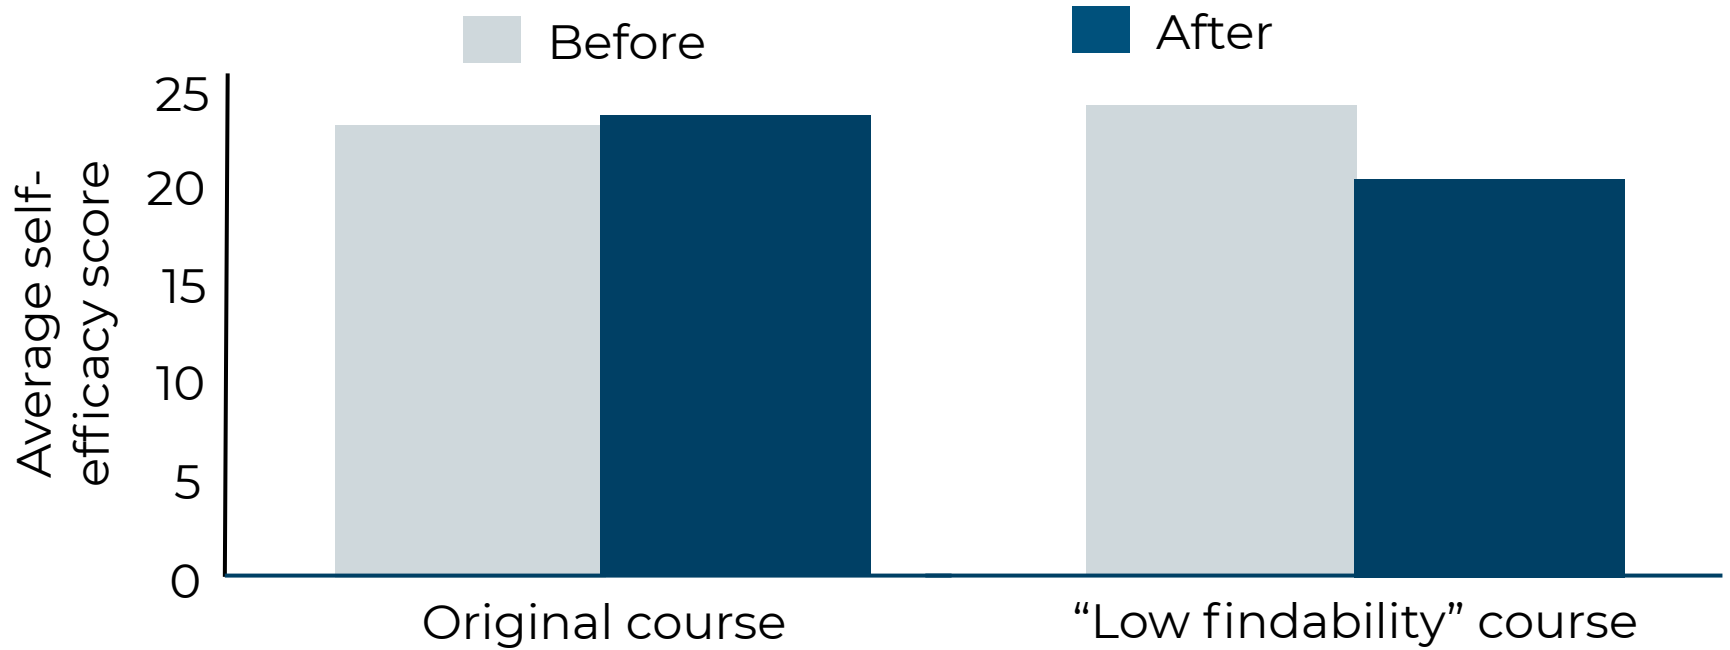

Motivation activities ³

Example 2: Organization

Organization & “Findability” Study

Self-Efficacy Scores

Keeping Organized

- Have a “landing page” with all links to key resources (assignments, meetings, readings)
- Follow a regular schedule
- Use integrated calendar features (when available)
- Ask a friend to look around
- Look out for learners who are getting frustrated

Practices That Support All Learners

- Interpersonal interaction
- Multiple modalities of learning
- Repeated opportunities to practice key content
- Motivation, belonging, & engagement activities
- Organization (easy to find everything)

The Hallmarks of Great Online Learning

Conclusions

- There are effective teaching practices oriented towards equity
- Interventions can be tailored to your student population
- Equity-oriented practices can benefit all learners
- Teaching practices are part of an equity strategy
