Listen up Mobile Operators.
floLIVE is Bringing Agile Back

Next-Gen Connectivity Management Platform-as-a-Service

High operational costs and heavy CapEx investments are holding today's mobile operators back. It's the era of LPWAN, 5G and IoT, and to stay competitive, flexibility is key.

Examples include:

- Quickly processing change requests without high costs or complex integrations
- Onboarding new customers, especially remaining profitable with long-tail enterprises
- Profiting from low ARPU devices, and when it comes to IoT, these are the majority
- Providing coverage & optimizing performance, in-footprint, and on a global scale

> floLIVE has its finger on the pulse of the market, and has built its IoT Connectivity Management platform with strong MNO relationships as the very heart.

We offer four key building blocks that make up the floLIVE solution for MNOs.

floCONTROL

Automated Connectivity Management

Multi-tier connectivity management, including lifecycle management, policy creation, and deep troubleshooting and self-care capabilities for faster customer response times.

IoT-oriented LTE/5G Core Network

Fully managed Core Network that includes 2G-5G/NB-IoT/CAT-M, and beyond. Deployed locally with global breakouts for IoT. This offers easy global expansion to target additional revenues beyond your footprint.

Device and eSIM Management

Complete visibility into every SIM across any type or form factor. Multi-IMSI capabilities, remote SIM provisioning, and autonomous switching for best coverage. Think eUICC, but better, at no additional cost.

Business Support Systems

Simplify your operations by billing beyond connectivity, including rating, charging, and advanced billing and invoicing. Our BSS has a flexible rating engine for prepaid, postpaid, pooled plans, one-time invoicing, and more, so you can easily monetize new commercial models.

> With our cloud-native deployment, we provide an efficient migration model with quick time to market. Our pay-as-you-grow business model means you can lose the premium price tag, and get a lower TCO for a feature-rich, fully integrated suite at a single predictable cost.
