Yellowdig's Patented Gamification Approach Improves Student Outcomes

Gamification is a bit of a buzzword in education these days. We can debate the educational value of all the digital games out there, but no one can dismiss the impact (good or bad) of gaming on the formative minds of future generations. Yellowdig's gamification approach, which was recently awarded a patent, tackles two large problems educators face. Learn more about how our unique approach enables student success and satisfaction by solving these problems.
