

The OpenCreds for Malaysia Investment Fund

The OpenCreds for Malaysia Investment Fund has been launched to support the development of market-leading micro-credentials based on the OpenCreds framework, aligned with the Malaysian Qualifications Agency (MQA) guidelines. OpenLearning will invest RM600,000 for this initiative in order to:

Increase Awareness

To help increase awareness and uncover the potential of micro-credentials and short courses.

Develop OpenCreds

To support the development of OpenCreds, or micro-credential courses on OpenLearning.

Enable Lifelong Learning

To facilitate the creation of a range of flexible courses and pathways for upskilling and reskilling.

Supporting education providers to realise the possibilities

The fund will be in the form of cash and/or in-kind services by OpenLearning to assist institutions with their micro-credential initiatives. Successful applicants will enter into a revenue share agreement with OpenLearning in exchange for OpenLearning's investment.

Who's eligible to apply?

- Higher Education Providers (public and private)
- Technical, Vocational and Training Providers (TVET)
- Industry Associations
