Empower your city to engage with their volunteers

Rosterfy's effective scheduling tools help to replace manual processes with automations, allowing cities and local governments to focus on what's important - like engaging their volunteers!

Cities and local governments use Rosterfy to:

- Engage more volunteers throughout the city
- Utilise parent/child accounts to support multiple city offices
- Track applications, waivers, and timesheets with accuracy
- Manage training and upskilling
- Pull accurate reports and better understand data

Control your workflow.

Eliminate manual processes

Save time and money by replacing manual processes with automations, allowing you to reduce administration overheads without compromising the integrity of your program.

Engage & retain

Volunteers love Rosterfy's user friendly portals, providing a central platform to apply for shifts, complete training modules and access important communications.

Empower your community

Cities use Rosterfy's parent/ child account functionality to allow departments, events and partner organisations to manage their programs autonomously.

Report with accuracy

Generate detailed reports in real time that track attendance, hours worked, attrition and retention rates to ensure that you have transparency across your volunteer management program.

ROSTERFY CASE STUDY

"The platform is so user friendly!"

Loudoun County Sports Department started using Rosterfy during the height of COVID after searching for a staff management solution to assist with the delivery of their Sports & Recreation Programs. Looking for a solution to replace their previous solution including Humanity and excel spreadsheets having previously used Humanity and excel spreadsheets.

Since using Rosterfy, they have managed to take their training program online and have also been really impressed with the ability to pull reports easily so much so that additional Departments are now looking into utilizing Rosterfy also.

"We have some older employees who aren't very tech savvy but the platform is so user friendly that I've even got them using it. These are staff who have worked for us for 20 years and they've always said that they 'can't do technology' but now they're going in and picking their own shifts and pulling reports, which is amazing because it has empowered them to operate independently."
