Industry knowhow

Avail is a company built by seasoned industry veterans that have a personal understanding and strong commitment to the needs of physicians, medical device professionals, and patients alike.

A composite image featuring a surgical team in an operating room. In the foreground, a laptop screen displays a live feed of the surgery. The background shows the actual surgeons in blue scrubs and masks, focused on the patient. The lighting is a cool blue, typical of an OR.

Be in the room.
Even when you can't be.

The Avail System is a fully integrated audio/visual hardware and software designed by industry veterans with deep medical knowhow. It's intuitive and integrates seamlessly into your workflow, so you can focus more on what matters most.
