Learn how to boost your efficiency by integrating your technology stack.

Join thousands of other brokerages we've helped solve daily challenges for with our integrated products. From ready-to-be-used options to advanced custom solutions, we've covered it all.

The problems brokerages deal with mostly boil down to important stuff scattered in too many places—lost emails, chasing down clients or agents to get signatures, reams of transaction paperwork, etc. That's why BrokerMint can help you. We combine all the tools your team needs in a single, simple package that gets you back to selling real estate.

And the best part: we integrate all 10 of our products to work in tandem with other tools.

We use BrokerMint to manage every task your back office does in one centralized dashboard. With our one stop shop brokerage management solution, all the information you need is right at your fingertips.

The Tools We Integrate With our Simple Start Plan:

Google Calendar

We funnel all your major transaction milestones into your Google Calendar and set it to automatically invite everyone to receive the updates.

Cloud Storage

What can be more valuable than your data? We connect your back office to a virtual storage through DropBox & Google Drive to make sure you always have copies of your files. We don't keep your information hostage!

DocuSign

Digitally sign and secure forms to help speed up an ordinarily time-consuming and frustrating process, helping you to close more contracts quickly and efficiently.

Apination

Connecting more tools that you use on daily basis without coding? Absolutely possible with help of the Apination platform that already has over 150+ ready to be used integrations.

This plan works for small teams or brokerages with up to 7 agents. It'll ease your pain if you're handling commission structures and contracts manually, or if you're wading through a stack of spreadsheets to find the progress of each contract.

With Our Standard Plan,
We Integrate All the Tools from our Simple Plan

 Plus More:

CoreLogic Matrix

We'll connect your MLS system to allow seamless data flow to your deals. All the information gets pre-populated so you don't have to waste time refilling data to start signing forms and setting commissions.

QuickBooks

QuickBooks accounting system is used by over 80% of brokerages. This integrated tool allows instant data flow that eliminates manual entry and removes the need to run expensive reconciliation projects.

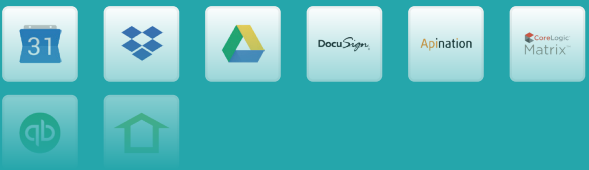

RealSatisfied

Gathering feedback from clients has never been easier! You get instant feedback from clients to drive referrals.

When you're starting out and you're closing around 10-15 deals a month, you may think it's easy enough to track and manage all of this via a simple spreadsheet system--and at this stage in your business, it very well could be.

But growth is the name of the game in this industry, and there will likely come a time when you can't manage it all with spreadsheets alone. And do you really want to invest hours of time trying to convert everything over into some clunky (and expensive) system built in house? Or would you rather work with a system that was built by brokers, for brokerages?

+ Plus More:

Updater

Take care of your clients from start to finish, manage deals and enjoy the power of automatic processes that leverage the Updater platform. This and other integrated solutions keep your toolkit fresh and your clients happy.

CRM Systems

Nurture leads in your CRM system and automatically feed them over to your back office once they go under contract. That means no more delays for your clients!

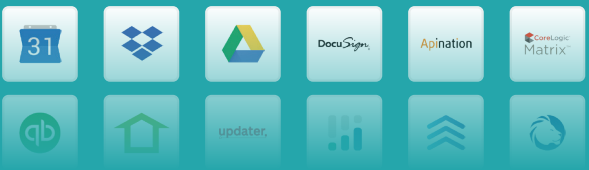

Report

We integrate this tool so you can report production to your franchiser with a click.

This plan is for you if you're a successful enterprise brokerage and want to scale further. You've reached a point where you need more office space—whether that means expanding your current office or opening up a brand new one.

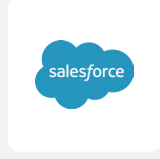

Your new office will copy every successful effort to get the same results your first one gets. This means you'll add more agents and administrators and will most likely deal with 30 to 35 transactions per month.

 Plus More:

Salesforce

We make it easy to use enterprise level solutions like Salesforce. Your job is to sell real estate, not code. That's why our experts turn this complicated task into an easy one. Since we've done this dozens of times, we're ready to hold your hand through the entire process.

Expand your toolkit

We connect Microsoft Dynamics, Sage and NetSuite to your other important tools. Helping you expand your toolkit of systems is how we position you to do your best business!

You've become a super successful brokerage and it's time to duplicate your successes. At this point you'll probably operate out of 4 to 5 offices and plan to bring on more roles into the company.

Your new regional manager will need to track each office's performance. That's where our comprehensive set of software solutions can help you. Your business is in a good spot—our integrated tools will help keep you there.
