

MEDIA RELEASE

For Immediate Release

Arts Commons Presents: National Geographic Live Virtual presentation Women and Migration

CALGARY – Meet three of the world’s most inspiring and ambitious photojournalists with the Arts Commons Presents: *National Geographic Live Virtual presentation of Women and Migration with Saiyna Bashir, Miora Rajaonary, and Danielle Villasana on Monday, April 12, 2021 at 7pm.

Saiyna Bashir is a Pakistani photojournalist whose work has taken her to conflicts around the globe, covering everything from Black Lives Matter protests in the United States, to violence at the Chinese embassy in Karachi, Pakistan. Through all of it she has fought to share the human story behind the struggle.

Miora Rajaonary is a documentary photographer who focuses on using her images to widen the lens on Africa and Madagascar. Her images of humanity dig deep into the lives of the people she reveals.

Danielle Villasana an independent photojournalist based in Istanbul whose documentary work focuses on human rights, gender, displacement, and health, and her poignant photos have shone a light on the terrible injustices that trans women face in regions of South America. Together, these photographers will discuss the multifaceted topic of Women and Migration.

Free tickets to all National Geographic Live Virtual presentations must be booked online or by calling the Arts Commons Box Office in advance of the presentation. This opportunity is exclusive to Calgary and area.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC LIVE VIRTUAL PRESENTATIONS

Danielle Villasana, Miora Rajaonary, and Saiyna Bashir: Women and Migration

Mon, Apr 12, 2021

Nizar Ibrahim and Sebastian Rozadilla: Reimagining Dinosaurs

Mon, May 10, 2021

Diva Amon and David Gruber: Mysterious Seas

Mon, Jun 7, 2021

To book your free ticket today, call 403-294-9494 or visit artscommons.ca/NatGeoLive

-# #-

For media inquiries or more information contact:

Alex Bonyun, Communications Manager

403-294-7429 abonyun@artscommons.ca

Presenting Sponsor

Student Engagement Sponsor

EXPLORE National Geographic Sponsors

Public Sector Support

Explorers Circle - Trailblazers

Explorers Circle Sponsor

